ROBINSON & WYATT have 100 bushels of Seed Wheat for sale.

READ T. L. Jones' advertisement; also, Simeon Baswell's, in this issue.

REV. J. C. HUDSON has removed to our village. The town keeps filling up.

THE family of Mrs. Moses Jones has moved into their new house on Pumpkintown street.

MR. R. G. GAINES, from Central, the Agent of McFaden's Cotton House. was in town on Wednesday.

MR. GIGNILLIATT has had a large sign-board put up in front of the "Mountain View House."

HON. D. F. BRADLEY, Editor of the Pickens Sentinel, paid our office a visit on last Monday.

Col. J. E. HAGOOD passed through our town on his return to Charleston, last week.

IT is said that certain improvements on Sardine street, point to an important epoch in the history of a fellowmerchant.

MR. H. J. Granilliatt and lady left for the Exposition at Louisville last Tuesday. We wish them a pleasant trip and safe return.

Mr. S. Bryson, of our town, made the best time of any racer on the track at the Greenville Fair last week.

A FIRM mentioned in their advertisement last week an article that had grown dusty on their shelve. Result, four calls for it this week.

WE regret to learn of the death of Mr. Robert Griffln, which occurred at the home of his father, near Pickens C. H.. on last Saturday. A very large assembly of friends attended the funeral and burial service at Griffin Church on Sunday. Rev. D. W. Hiott preached the funeral sermon.

WHILE old bachelors get too old sometimes to marry, they never get too old to go to weddings. We heard one remark not long since that there was no use of his getting married so long as he could run around to all the weddings. He had just returned from a double marriage.

OUR Cotton Weigher's books show o'clock, P. M. Every second Sabbath that 587 bales of cotton have been received here to date this season, against 476 last, showing an increase of 111 bales. The prices paid for this staple here have been equal to, if not more, than paid at neighboring markets.

> Our Merchants are live, enterprising men-most of them advertise their goods, and the people show their appreciation by a liberal patronage.

> Among the names of the fortunate who took premiums at the Greenville Fair we notice the following from Pickens:

> D. C. Moore, sample Butter, bushel Irish Potatoes. Second premium, sample Carrots.

T. J. Bowen, best bale Cotton, sample Rice, bushel Red Wheat.

Miss Lillie L. Gossett, cluster of Flowers.

Miss Lelia Gossett, white feather fan.

Thomas Looper vs. Jeremiah Train-ASTEROID, the fine blooded horse of ham, damages for obstructing a line branch. Damages claimed, $75; verdiet for piaintiff $22.50. Motion hy defendant for new trial.

LETTER FROM PICKENS.

PICKENS C. H., S. C., Oct. 14. DEAR MESSENGER: You were a welcome visitor up here last week. We heard you complimented very much. A happy face, a brand-new dress, an enterprising front, and a chattering tongue, will make you take superlalatively well. Long and happy be your life; high may your head ever be and full your purse.

There is nothing extra new in Pickens. Everything pursues the even many boys, many girls-but nearly al of them are prizes located away up toward the top of long, slender, greasy poles, and the gaping throng of con-A PHOTOGRAPHER was going up testants are kept back from the fort of y with an arm full the "tall sycamores" by flowing swords. College have decided to give a public self. We suspect that owing to the debate in the Hall of the Paldorian Literary Society next week. It comes off on Friday night. One of your editors would be received with open embrace. The girls of the College are going to organize into a Society this week for their "Improvement in Ratiocination and Intellectual Gimnas-

> Mr. G. W. Taylor has just returned from a visit among the different fairs of the State. He must have met with his fate, for he has tremor cordis all the time. It's a poor fair which don't make some fellow "live up among the stars.'j The more he shakes his torch. the more it shines.

> Pickens has a dude. We are ahead of Easley in that respect, ain't we? Easley's paper, sounds pretty high though.

We are settling down to Winter quarters now. No more Summer roses to bloom and flourish among us. All the visiting young ladies have gone except Miss Lucie Hagood, and she leaves for the sea-shore this week. "We would that it were Summer always." But time does "move on in it's ceaseless course." Such departures is enough to make a fellow 'lose his mirth and his disposition go so heavily with him that the brave, overhanging firmament, all fretted with golden fire," seem but a waste of empty vapors. We close; so long.

P. S. There is to B a B up here B-4 long; we will send you an invitation or a piece of cake to dream on.

-For several days the colored people have been holding a campmeeting at Keysville, near town. Before it started one of the leading brethren approached a white gentleman who lived near and raised a good deal of stock, and the following conversation ensued: "Boss, how many pigs is yer got and where is dey?" "Well, about thirty, and most of them are in you to put dem hogs in de pen and sit over dem with a double barrel gun. Camp meeting and hogs don't mix well together."-Washington (N. C.) Gazette.

-We see how much a man has, and therefore envy him; did we pity him.
